

HOT WATER DISPENSING SYSTEM

ABSTRACT

Hot water dispensing systems having a self-resetting heater control switch that prevents heater burn-up if the water tank becomes empty, and a variable volume expansion chamber having a flexible bladder that is designed to withstand a pressure of at least 300 pounds per square inch.